

Delaware Technical Community College Mission Statement and Objectives

LEARNING COMMUNITIES MISSION STATEMENT

Learning Communities support Delaware Technical Community College's commitment to student success by enhancing teaching effectiveness through promotion of the use of instructional methodology and delivery strategies that engage students in meeting their diverse learning needs. Learning Communities are committed to cultivating student learning and fostering student success by providing focused communities in which students, faculty, and staff, can learn and grow together as members of the college community.

Learning Communities will:

- Assist students in developing a greater sense of belonging in a community college setting.
- Offer increased curricular and co-curricular collaborations with students, faculty, and staff.
- Provide various modes of effective teaching and learning strategies.
- Assist students in successful course completion, persistence, and retention.
- Provide increased awareness of departmental, College, and community resources.
- Assist students in the development of affective skills such as cultivating relationships, self-direction, motivation, and maturity.
- Assist students to develop a sense of self-efficacy as a college student.
