

Fall 2012 Credit - Learning Communities

Last Updated: 4/11/2012

Learning Communities are programs in which a group of students enrolls in two or more courses organized around a common theme, project or problem. The purpose of learning communities is to create a more integrated experience, to provide greater coherence in the curriculum and to increase collaboration of students and faculty in the pursuit of learning.

Night classes listed in shaded color
Course-Num-Sect(Reg#) Title	Class Meeting Information	Faculty	Loc Credits	Start/End Date	Co-req Sections	Class Features	Links
DWRI-0093 Dev Writing
DWRI-0093-4802 (776134) Dev Writing	LEC M W F 9:05 AM 10:00 AM	Stewart-Alexander, Selena Vita	EFC 3	8/27/12 12/13/12		Learning Comm.	Course Description Find Class Availability Class Syllabus
NOTE: DWRI0093.4802 LEARNING COMMUNITY: Students enrolled in this course must have an ACCUPLACER score of 78 or better in reading. Contact: Selena Stewart-Alexander @ 972 391-1064, Office G132. E-mail: selenastewart-alexander@dcccd.edu students must enroll in ENGL 1301.4802.

Last Updated: 4/11/2012